A Morning in May
by Ann Ziegler, BVS Unit #300

Our lives are woven together in a most intricate way. Somehow we leave a part of our heart, our soul with the people we share our lives with. And at the same time, they leave a part of their heart with us. Whether they are with us for years or for 5 minutes, their heart is added to ours. In this way we are continually building each other's souls. The Creator has the most wondrous ways of forming life.
