The Dan West Story

Peggy Reiff Miller

Lambuth International Room

In this 75th year of Heifer International, we take a look at the man behind its inception, Dan West. We will look at the forces in his life that gave him the passion for this project. "The Heifer Project," as it was first known, has brought joy and dignity to millions of people around the globe through the gift of animals. (CEU)

Grow Gratitude and Generosity this Advent

Anna Lisa Gross, Global Women's Project

Wilson Complex 7

Would you like to be grateful this Advent? To notice all you have (not with guilt- with gratitude) and cultivate deeper generosity in the Christmas season? For forty-one years, Global Women's Project has been encouraging the Church of the Brethren in the United States to be mindful of our luxuries and share our resources with families around the world. Let's enjoy engaging and thought-provoking activities, discussions, and resources that you can take back to your congregation for Christian Education or small groups of any age to use this Advent. (CEU)

Growing Older/ Growing Spiritually

Chris Douglas

Terrace 211

As we grow in age , are we also growing in our spirit? Are we deepening our prayer practices? Let's try some new ways of making prayer a growing part of our lives. (CEU)

A major business item at the 2020 Annual Conference will be voting on a new, compelling vision for the Church of the Brethren. The 2020 Annual Conference Moderator is eager to dialogue with you as we approach this historic conference.

Part-Time Pastor; Full-Time Church: An Exploration of Multi-Vocational Ministry

Dana Cassell

Wilson Complex 5

Seventy-five percent of Church of the Brethren congregations have pastors that serve in part-time or less-than-fully-compensated roles. Interestingly, twenty-six percent of these multi-vocational pastors are formally retired and still serving the church. Join us to learn about a new, grant-funded initiative supporting multi-vocational pastors and to share your own wisdom and experience from part-time ministry. (CEU)

The Role of the Adult Child With Aging Parents

Chris Widman

Terrace 316

How do we provide assistance with love and support for our aging parents when it is needed? Or as an aging parent ourselves, how does one accept help from others. This session will discuss how we best support aging parents who may or may not appreciate our help. (CEU)

Interest Groups: Tuesday (continued)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

Shape Note Singing-Brethren Style

Tim Binkley

Lambuth 104

In the early 1900s many Brethren were taught to sing by means of a seven shape notation system: one shape for each scale degree. In this session we will learn the seven shapes and practice this a cappella singing tradition using selections from The Brethren Hymnal of 1901. (CEU)

Tell Me Your Story, I Will Sing You A Song

Ken Medema

Stuart Auditorium

Participants will be encouraged to tell stories from their own lives of a time when they dealt with conflict and found joy on the other side. On the spot, Ken will sing a song about it.

Wait, My Cell Phone Can Take Pictures?

A bit “long in the tooth” or “too big for your britches”? Why intergenerational relationships matter

Becky Ullom Naugle

Lambuth 100

Isolation is an issue for both young people and older adults. One group lacks wisdom, while the other lacks energy. How can we turn a liability into an asset regardless of where we find ourselves on that spectrum? Come chat about the enormous opportunity intergenerational relationships provide. (CEU)

How To Have “The Talk” With Loved Ones and Friends

Kathy Gringrich and Anna Lee Hisey-Pierson

Terrace 211

We may think our family and friends know our healthcare choices. Do they have the tools and documents they need to support you in aligning your treatment preferences and goals of care with the healthcare you wish to receive? Advance Care Planning can lessen the burden of family conflict and increase family unity in a challenging time. (CEU)

Interculturalism and Brethren Culture- Mutual Spacemaking

Dennis Webb

Lambuth 101

Wow! For we are strangers no more! The Church of the Brethren gladly welcomes the stranger. The Church of the Brethren has difficulty welcoming the stranger. Can both be true? (CEU)

Interest Groups: Wednesday (continued)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

A Portrait of the Prophet as an Old (Wo)Man

Bill Scheurer

Lambuth 104

What kinds of risks do seniors face (and not face) today if we engage in prophetic action against oppression, violence, and wars in our society? What unique (dis)advantages does our seniority offer for living the prophetic call? What are some patterns from scripture to help guide our way? We will begin by reading Isaiah 20 and Ezekiel 4, and talk about the odd behavior of these prophets in their days. We also will explore stories of what some seniors are doing to act on their prophetic convictions, and what place prophetic action may have in our lives. (CEU)

Tell Me Your Story, I Will Sing You A Song

Ken Medema

Stuart Auditorium

Participants will be encouraged to tell stories from their own lives of a time when they dealt with conflict and found joy on the other side. On the spot, Ken will sing a song about it.

To Germany and Back In Under An Hour

Nevin Dulabaum

Lambuth International Room

Come on a journey from Schwarzenau to the Wissahickon. See pictures and hear stories of sites that were important to the formation of the Brethren movement, from Switzerland, Germany, and the Netherlands to the site of the first baptism and early meeting houses in the U.S. The presenter made trips to document these heritage sites, some of which are not on site-seeing tours. (CEU)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

Reaching out to Persons Sentenced to Death

Rachel Gross

Lambuth 102

In the last forty years, many Church of the Brethren members, along with thousands of others, have written to someone on death row through the Death Row Support Project. Hear stories of this unique way of reaching across generations, class, race, and culture to bring joy into the lives of others. (CEU)

Creating a Community of Diversely-Abled People

Jeanne Davies

Terrace 211

In the Body of Christ all needs are accommodated and all gifts are employed in an interdependent relationship that benefits the whole. How might we create a church that includes everyone as an essential part of our life together for the good of all? (CEU)

Emigrant Trails of the Old West—A Trip Across the Plains and Great Basin of the 1840's

Lowell Flory

Lambuth 100

Pictures, maps, and stories of covered wagon journeys over the Oregon, Mormon, and California Trails in the mid-19th century. How much of what those travelers saw and experienced can still be seen today? This session is for NOAC'ers who have not had opportunity to travel the west up close and are curious what it was like for pioneers who pressed into the unknown by wagon or shoe leather nearly 3,000 miles beyond their eastern seaboard homes. Part history, part travelogue, all fun. (CEU)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

How Denominational Ministries are Preparing for the Future Church

David Steele, Church of the Brethren Inc.; Jeff Carter, Bethany Theological Seminary; Nevin Dulabaum, Brethren Benefit Trust; Bill Scheurer, On Earth Peace

Lambuth International Room

As the church experiences shifting cultural expectations and the Church of the Brethren seeks a compelling vision, Brethren Benefit Trust, Church of the Brethren Incorporated, On Earth Peace, and Bethany Theological Seminary are working to meet the needs of today's church as they plan for the future. It may seem unrealistic to plan for a future that is still emerging, but the ministry needs of today offer a glimpse of the future church. Hear from denominational leaders as to where their ministries are finding energy and how they are planning for a hope-filled future. (CEU)

Meandering Through Medicare

Mike Baker

Terrace 316

Uncertainty and confusion seem to be the norm in talking about health care today, and Medicare is no exception. This session will provide information to end uncertainty and confusion associated with Medicare. (CEU)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

Military Conscription—Past and Future

Tim Binkley

Lambuth 104

The draft is back in the news, and many voices are calling for its reinstatement. This session will begin by exploring the history of Brethren responses to military conscription. It will conclude with a group discussion of what church members can do to help preserve a right that has been dear to many generations of Brethren: the right to not bear arms. (CEU)

My Return to Nigeria

David Doudt

Wilson Complex 7

Fifty years after I last left Nigeria, I felt a call to return, this time as a volunteer at the Montessori for Peace Preschool in the Internally Displace Person Camp of Gurku. I'll share my recent experience through stories and photographs of the people I met and the places I saw. (CEU)

South Sudan: Can there be Joy after so much war?

Roger Schrock

Wilson Complex 5

What the people of South Sudan have to teach us, there is hope beyond war and violent conflict. Are we willing to engage with these people? (CEU)

2:00-3:00 p.m.

Toward an Anabaptist Theology of Illness

Laura Stone

Lambuth 101

When illness strikes, whether temporary or chronic, “Where is God in this?” becomes a persistent and critical question. When illness affects family members or church members, striving for meaning and ways to faithfully attend to those who suffer is the hard and holy calling of the church and loved ones. We’ll be looking at various theorists (Arthur Frank, Atul Gawande, Jill McNish, early Anabaptist theologians, Shelly Rambo, Sharon Betcher, and others) and bringing those insights to our own experiences of illness, aiming to find glimpses of God’s movement toward wholeness and joy in the midst, in ourselves and our communities. (CEU)

War Drones, Arms Sales and the Brethren

Nate Hosler

Lambuth 102

United States military action and arms sale policies can have a huge impact on our neighbors in other countries. As U.S. citizens, it is important to remain aware of the actions being taken on our behalf, and to speak out in favor of peace. Join the Office of Peacebuilding and Policy to learn how the office advocates for peaceful policy solutions in Washington, DC, and how you can engage in this work. (CEU)

Arts and Crafts

2:00-3:00 p.m.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

Tie-Dying

Frances Townsend

Under the Tent next to Harrell Center

We will help you create a unique design using professional, quality permanent dye. Have fun playing with color. One cotton T-shirt, or baby onesies, or silk scarf provided.

Wednesday

Create Your Own Prayer Flag

Kim Ebersole

Wilson Complex 5

Learn about the ancient Tibetan practice of creating prayer flags, then make your own. Your prayer flags will be a "work of the heart" so no artistic experience is necessary. You may want to bring favorite prayers and quotes to write on your flags. (CEU)

Sewing Your Own Journal

Angela Finet

Wilson Complex 2

Learn simple bookbinding techniques to create your own custom, soft-bound journal. No previous experience required.

Afternoon Programs

3:30-4:30 p.m.

Tuesday

J. Creek Cloggers

Stuart Auditorium

The J. Creek Cloggers are a high-energy dance team incorporating Buck Dance, Flat-Foot, and Clogging throughout their routines. Audience participation dances are a big highlight including broom dances and teaching the history behind square dance and the music behind the dance. They are celebrating their tenth year.

Wednesday

Birds of Prey

Stuart Auditorium

A popular program at past NOAC's. A naturalist from Balsam Mountain Preserve allows you to get up close and personal with non-releasable birds from a tiny eastern screech owl to a northern bald eagle.

Thursday

Hymn Sing and Organ Recital

Stuart Auditorium

You and your Hymnal-A Worship Book are cordially invited to join our Music Coordinator, Bev Anspaugh, and Organist, Jonathan Emmons in Stuart Auditorium for a Hymn Sing and Organ Recital. Four-part harmony, accapella, modulations, old favorites and maybe some "less familiar" selections, and hopefully a chance to "call out your favorite number" will all be on the agenda. This will be a time to gather to sing for the sheer joy of singing!"

Keynote Speakers

Sr. Joan Chittister is one of the best known and best loved writers and international speakers on Benedictine spirituality and social justice in the world today. She has authored some 60 books and over 700 articles. Sr. Joan has been a courageous advocate of social justice for all, especially for women, in both church and society. Sister Joan teaches us how to find God and inner peace in the midst of today's turbulent world. She has a master's degree from the University of Notre Dame, a Ph.D. in speech communication from Penn State University, and was an Elected Fellow and Von Hugel lecturer of St. Edmunds College, Cambridge University. She was prioress of her monastery, the Benedictine Sisters of Erie, Pennsylvania for 12 years, was president of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious, and is currently co-chair of the U.N.-sponsored Global Peace Initiative of Women. She is currently the executive director of Benetvision: a resource and research center for contemporary spirituality located in Erie.

Dr. Drew Hart is an activist, writer, and sought-after speaker on topics of racial justice, black theology, Anabaptism, and white supremacy. He is an assistant professor of theology at Messiah College with a PhD from Lutheran Theological Seminary. Hart and his wife and children live in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. His recent book is entitled, "Trouble I've Seen: Changing The Way The Church Views Racism."

Ken Medema and Ted Swartz are welcomed as “honorary Brethren.” They are popular performers at National Youth Conference, Annual Conference, and past NOAC’s.

Ken is a singer/songwriter. He is a “sneaky theologian” who draws you into his seemingly simple songs and then catches you off guard with deep meaning and profound emotional impact. Ken and his manager, Bev VanderMolen, have traveled around the world sharing their faith and music.

Ted is a Mennonite actor and comedian whose portrayal of biblical stories breaks open the scriptures in new and surprisingly relevant ways. You will find yourself laughing and crying, sometimes simultaneously. He lives in Harrisonburg, VA with his (very patient) wife, Sue.

Preachers

Dawn Ottoni-Wilhelm is ordained in the Church of the Brethren and has served as a hospital chaplain in NJ and PA, and also as the pastor of two churches in PA. Having completed her doctoral work in Practical Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary in 2004 (focusing on homiletics and biblical studies), she currently serves as the Brightbill Professor of Preaching and Worship at Bethany Theological Seminary in Richmond, IN. She and her spouse reside in Richmond, IN, where two of their three young adult children also live and work. Dawn enjoys distance swimming, music, and conversations with loved ones.

Jennifer Keeney Scarr grew up in the Church of the Brethren the daughter of not one, but two, CoB pastors. Her flare for the dramatic led her to graduate from the University of LaVerne with a BA in Performing Arts and a minor in Religion. That little minor carried her to Bethany

Theological Seminary, where she finally succumbed to a call to pastoral ministry in 2015. Along with the unexpected joy of being a pastor, Jen's ministry came with a twist. Eleven months out of the year Jen pastors the Trotwood Church of the Brethren just outside of Dayton, Ohio and one month out of the year she works with Christian Peacemaker Teams as a reservist in Barrancabermeja, Colombia. Jen remains deeply grateful to pastor a community which allows her the space to express the fullness of her vocation. In between responsibilities, you might find Jen snuggled up on the couch with her favorite human and partner, Jonathan, watching sitcoms or some kind of science fiction. If she's not doing that, then she's attempting to convince her cats not to sit on the book she's trying to read.

Walt Wiltschek serves as pastor of Easton (Md.) Church of the Brethren and as at-large editor for Messenger magazine. A graduate of Northern Illinois University, Eastern Mennonite University, and York College of Pennsylvania, he has done most of his work in journalism, ministry, and youth/young adult activities. He is passionate about traveling, writing, volunteering at camps, and several favorite sports teams.

Jeanne Davies serves as Pastor for Parables Community, a new church fellowship in Lombard, Illinois which is sensitive to the needs and celebrates the gifts of all, including those with disabilities. She also serves as Program Resources Coordinator for the Anabaptist Disabilities Network. Jeanne has a Master of Divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary, a Certificate in Homiletic Peer Coaching from Vanderbilt Divinity School, and is currently working on a Certificate in Disability and Ministry from Western Theological Seminary in Holland, Michigan. She lives in West Dundee, IL with her husband, Joel, daughter, Nora, and loyal dog, Finn.

Dennis Webb is originally from Ocho Rios, Jamaica. He began his career as a High School teacher and was ordained to the Christian ministry in 1991. In 1999 he migrated to the United States where he began a Chaplain Resident program at Advocate Good Samaritan Hospital in Downers Grove, IL. He has served as the pastor of the Naperville Church of the Brethren since January 2002. Dennis completed a Master of Arts degree at Bethany Theological Seminary focusing on multiculturalism in 2012. He has served on the Church of the Brethren Mission and Ministry Board, is currently a member of the Standing Committee of Annual Conference and is a member of the Intercultural Ministries Advisory Council (IMAC). His current congregation is predominantly Indian, and has members from four ethnic groups. Dennis lives in Aurora, IL with Joy, his wife of 28 years. They have two young adult children. He loves to play the guitar, read and jog. He has produced a CD of 16 original Brethren songs entitled "The Holy Kiss".

Bible Study Leader

Paula Bowser is a poet, painter, Bible nerd and recently retired pastor, whose joys include Shakespeare, art museums, travel and cinema. She has been ordained as a Church of the Brethren minister for 25 years, having served the Glade Valley and Trotwood congregations. Paula and her husband, Tom, live in Englewood, Ohio (a suburb of Dayton). She and Karen Crim Dillon have co-led the District Women's Bible Study for 10 years for the Southern Ohio-Kentucky District. Paula writes for Brethren Press and has published 2 Bible Study Guides for the Covenant Bible Studies series: Jonah: God's Global Reach (1992) and Women of the Hebrew Bible (2017).
