God of all, God who sees all, may we see the world with your eyes. May our hands and our hearts move the world, and change the world. Sometimes we feel that it is all too much, or at least too much for us. But you have given us the courage to act and the strength to succeed, especially when we work with others. Help us to be strong, and courageous, in your name. Amen.