Genealogical History
Restored in Abandoned Cemetery

The first Church of the Brethren cemetery in Indiana has fallen into disrepair. A group of people have started the restoration only to find a lot of genealogical mysteries uncovered. Come to the Fellowship of Brethren Genealogists Annual Meeting and listen to guest speaker tell of solved mysteries located in the cemetery and the importance of preserving history found there.

Anitra Kraus is a Bethany Theological Seminary student who graduated this spring with a Certificate of Achievement in Theological Studies. She is currently working on obtaining a Masters of Divinity Degree. An avid historian and genealogist she is the one organizing the clean-up of the cemetery. Her husband, Alan, and she have been married for 20 years. She recently joined the Fellowship of Brethren Genealogist as the editor of their newsletter.
