Psalm 25:15-17 Lonely and afflicted

Call to Worship by Rachel Witkovsky

This is holy ground. This time together is sacred space.

The location doesn't matter.

The time shared in this set aside moment is holy.

And God is with us, here in this place.

We come with burdens and with excitement.

We come with fear and with hope.

We come tired as well as energized.

We come as we are,

Ready to hear God's voice and see God present among this community.

We come together and worship the Lord.
