

Thinking Theologically with Our Hands

Presenter:
MaryAnn McKibben Dana

June 13, 2021 online, 5–6 p.m. Eastern

It's an exciting and nerve-wracking time to be engaged in ministry - especially if you work with youth or young adults. For many of us, ministry looks nothing like what we thought...and that was before a global pandemic! Thankfully, our faith gives us plenty of tools for creative and sustainable ministry. Join pastor, ministry coach, and author MaryAnn McKibben Dana as we explore faith formation through the lenses of improvisation as holy work. We are all creators and improvisers - often without realizing it! The focus of our time together will be on practices for thriving in the midst of chaotic, often unpredictable lives.

The Rev. MaryAnn McKibben Dana is a writer, free-range pastor, speaker, and coach living in Virginia. She is a mother of three, an inveterate muffin-maker, a haphazard knitter, and an occasional marathoner. Like many authors, MaryAnn writes the books that she herself longs to read. So as a recovering perfectionist who likes her backup plans to have backup plans, she penned God, Improv, and the Art of Living, embracing improvisation as a spiritual and life practice.
