Call to Giving by Felisha Diamond

The latest phone, the coolest shoes, the fastest car. We are pressured to spend our hard-earned dollars on stuff that will make us noticeable. But what if there is a different way? What if, instead of using our money to glorify ourselves, we use it to glorify God? Instead of buying items for status and comfort, what if we give them to feed the hungry and clothe the poor? Being generous may not be the way the world encourages us to live, but it is the way that God encourages us to live. As we give today, may we use our money not to impress people, but to show our obedience to God.
